

WILL NOT NEGLECT DUTIES TO CANVASS THE COUNTY

MR. LEE GIBBS ISSUES A
CARD

And Explains Why It Will Be Impossible to See All the Voters
Personally.

Recently, friends of mine from different parts of the county, have asked me why I have not visited their sections in the interest of my candidacy. I wish to remind the voters that in my card announcing my candidacy, I stated that inasmuch as both reality and personality assessments had to be made this year, and that I had to do a great deal of the work myself, I could not make a thorough personal canvass and at the same time do justice to the duties of the office. It would hardly be consistent on my part to ask a nomination of a second term on the ground of competency and duty faithfully performed in the past, and at the same time neglect my duty in the interest of my candidacy. As public office is a public trust.

The rolls must be properly prepared on time, else the interests of the people will suffer. I shall see all of the voters that I can; but I would have those that I fail to see to remember the circumstances, and that public service is paramount to private interests. No Assessor can do all of the work required in such a large county himself; but what he cannot do he must see that it is properly done. I think the average voter would rather know that an official was not neglecting the duties which his office requires, than listening to "his tale of woe" and arguments why he should be retained in office.

I call your especial attention to the fact that to properly fulfill the duties of this office, the one holding the same should by all means have experience and training in matters pertaining to land, and my long service as Deputy Chancery Clerk, and the past four years as Assessor, in my opinion, clearly gives me the qualifications necessary to serve you efficiently.

Since assuming the duties of County Assessor, I have endeavored to give to all taxpayers fair, honest and courteous treatment and to perform the work efficiently, and I here state without fear of contradiction that this is admitted even by those who are not lending me their support in this race, and if this is true, I feel that I am clearly entitled to a second term, and therefore ask your support.

Very respectfully,
LEE GIBBS.

MISSISSIPPI MOTION PICTURE.

Tonight at the Yazoo Theatre I. L. & C.
Allegorical Play Appeals.

Tonight the Yazoo Theatre will present that spectacular and fascinating allegorical production, the Historical Pageant of Mississippi, as produced by the students of I. L. & C. at Columbus.

Special trains were run on all railroads, a great amphitheatre was constructed, and preparations on a large scale were carried on for months before this big commencement play at the I. L. & C. No expense or trouble was spared to make the production an artistic triumph. One-third of a mile of motion pictures was made at a special dress rehearsal by an expert cameraman. It is now the opportunity of all Mississippians to see that spectacle which thrilled the thousands on the day of production. The gorgeous costumes and the dramatic events add nothing of their original beauty on the screen. The dances are as lovely as when seen in fact.

The story, as you will see it in the pictures, is the shortened story of the play itself. First comes Spirit of History, who interprets all that is to follow in her exquisite dance, "The Parable of Life." She vanishes and we see Folly, faint to linger in the Valley of Youth, left by her parents, Worldliness and Indulgence. Crystal Clear, the spirit of ideal girlhood, and her sisters rejoice that Folly will stay with them and learn beautiful things of their Alma Mater. When Folly leaves them at the call of Worldliness, her mother, Crystal Clear's grief is banished by I. L. & C.'s telling her to call the girls of Mississippi. She calls them and they come, hundreds of them, to hear the story of Mississippi.

As I. L. & C. speaks, the story appears to us, scene by scene, showing the legendary coming of the Choctaws guided by their prophet and his sacred pole; Christopher Columbus pleading with Ferdinand and Isabella for ships to brave the Unknown; DeSoto and his armored knights in their bold quest for gold; Pushmataha, friend of the palefaces, and his Choctaw braves; hardy pioneers taking possession of the land; the "Jefferson Davis Barbecue," at which the flower of the Old South gathered to hear Senator Davis speak; the wedding of General Stephen D. Lee; the first decoration day; a reconstruction election; the founding of the I. L. & C.; the last triumphal entry of the Mississippi of Today in her golden chariot surrounded by all her children of the past and present in one great mass of beauty.

Then, I. L. & C. sends the girls of Mississippi forth to live her lessons, led by Crystal Clear and her sisters, the ideals of girlhood.

THE LEADING CANDIDATE

MR. W. R. DOLTON Makes His Official Announcement.

It begins to look like everybody and his kidfolks are runnin' for something, and no announcement in political circles occasions much surprise these days. However, there is one announcement in this issue of the Sentinel that will at least create a good deal of interest in every section of the county. This is the announcement of Mr. W. R. Dolton, which appears in the last page of Section three this week. Mr. Dolton is the leading candidate for your lumber business, and his ad will tell you a whole lot about the subject that you should know. If you are interested in any kind of lumber, or are thinking of putting up a silo, it will pay you to read the ad mentioned.

News

From the City and County

Mr. N. Ostrey is spending ten days at Brown's Wells.

Mr. L. H. Barnwell, of Memphis, was in the city Saturday on business.

Mrs. Charles Collins is spending some time on the Coast.

Miss Elizabeth George, of Jackson, is the guest of Mrs. Herman Brister.

Mrs. W. S. Statham, of Jackson, was the guest of Mrs. L. O. Smith last week.

Mrs. J. S. Perrin is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Grace, at Pine Bluff, Ark.

Mr. S. E. Barnwell, of Greenwood, was shaking hands with his many friends here last week.

Latham & Williams are hustling candidates for your trade in clothing and furnishings. See their ad in this issue.

Col. E. Schaefer is spending his vacation at Biloxi, where he lived many years ago, and has many friends.

Mrs. Carilla Elliott and Lucy Farish and Miss Gladys Elliott have returned from a pleasant trip to the Panama Exposition.

K. P. Miller's Annual Clearing Sale is now on. If you want bargains, be sure to attend this sale. See ad elsewhere in this issue.

The Yazoo County Sunday-School Convention convenes at Osceola today for two days, and promises to be a very interesting session.

Mr. C. R. Endsley, of Lebanon, Tenn., has been in the city several days. Mr. Endsley is connected with the Castle Heights School at Lebanon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Holmes, accompanied by Chas. E., Jr., left Sunday for Greenville by automobile, and will be there on a visit for the remainder of this week.

Hon. W. D. Gibbs had a severe spell Tuesday evening, and his family and friends were much alarmed at his condition, but will rejoice to know that his condition is now much improved.

Mr. G. E. Rivers made 223 bushels of oats on two acres of land just south of the city this year. The land was especially prepared, and the entire crop handled according to Government methods.

Mrs. R. H. Douthat went over to Jackson last week, where she met her mother, Mrs. Pearl Bailey Mason, of Macon, Ga., who returned here with her, and will be Mrs. Douthat's guest for some time.

Messrs. Jas. G. and W. F. Holmes and Dee Love and Ben Luckett have returned from a very pleasant auto trip through Mississippi and Louisiana to New Orleans and back. They report a very enjoyable time.

Mr. H. Lawrence Schmitt, of Birmingham, Ala., is spending a short time visiting relatives here. Mr. Schmitt is a great booster for Birmingham, but says that business has not been as lively there since the war began as formerly, although there has been a noticeable improvement in the last few weeks.

The Sentinel has received the following under date of July 29 from Prof. F. M. Drake, whose many friends will congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Drake on the information given: "Our lives were blessed on the eve of this date, 10:30 p. m., June 19, 1915, with a splendid eight-pound girl. Both mother and babe are doing nicely."

Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Sullivan had as their guest last week Mrs. Sullivan's father, Mr. R. H. Felder, of Topisaw, Miss. Mr. Felder is ninety-one years old and is actively engaged in farming and stock raising at Topisaw. He is very active and impresses one with the truth of the saying that a man is no older than he feels.

In the notice in last week's issue of the death of Master Shepherd Jones, the reference to the calling of the family physician might be construed as meaning that Dr. Noblin was called the day before an operation was decided upon. The fact was that Dr. Noblin did not see the child until Saturday morning, and at once saw the seriousness of the case, and recommended immediate action. This statement is made in justice to Dr. Noblin.

WILLIS-KNIGHT IDEA.

Some Explanation of What is Really Meant by Knight Motor.

This is a season of surprises in the motor car industry.

The new developments have taken the form of multiplying the cylinders of the old type of motor, of radical price reductions, or a combination of all three. One of the latest developments is that covered by the Willis-Knight announcement which offers two radical changes—one in motor design, the other in price. The price of $1,025 is the lowest at which a car with a Knight type motor has been offered to the public.

Its reliability, remarkable power, smoothness of operation and economy have made it famous throughout the world. One of its chief advantages is its characteristic of improving with use.

It is an established fact that the Knight type of motor gives even greater satisfaction the second and succeeding years than the first. Its simple design and small number of parts insures it against the various evils that frequently come under the hand of motor troubles. Retiming is never necessary. There is no guesswork. The entire action is positive and never failing.

The important difference of the Knight type motor from a poppet valve motor is in the valve arrangement. The Knight type is a sleeve valve motor. The valves are merely sliding sleeves. There are two—one inside the other, sliding up and down between the cylinder wall and piston. In each opening are placed which, at the proper time in the action of the motor, come opposite to each other so as to permit the charge of fresh gas from the carburetor to enter the combustion chamber and similarly for the burnt gases to pass from the cylinder out into the muffler.

W. M. ROBB MAKES CANVASS FOR LAND COMMISSIONER

LATE ENTRY MAKES WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN.

Prominent Hinds Countian Enters the Race, With Good Prospects of Success.

A notable feature of Mississippi's present political campaign is the late entries in several races for State office.

One of the eleventh-hour entries is Mr. W. M. Robb, of Hinds County, who has shied his caster into the ring for Land Commissioner, and is now making a whirlwind canvass, having covered twelve counties in ten days, and hopes to cover thirty more before the polls open.

Mr. Robb has been one of the efficient deputies of the State Revenue Agent for several months. He formerly represented Hinds County in the State Senate, and is regarded as a formidable aspirant for the land commissionership.

THEY SAY!

Written for the Sentinel by Kukelbur.

They say that "Bilbo's losing ground!"
We know this is not so,
Yet we hear the Antis crying it
Just everywhere you go.
And why they harp along this line
No one but them can tell.
They may not know the truth just now,
On the third they'll know it well.

They say that "Bilbo's losing ground!"
They cry it from every stump;
They try to rout the Bilbo crowd
And catch them on the jump.
But happily the Bilbo crowd
Just know their tactics well;
That while they talk about Bilbo,
The truth they will not tell.

They say that they can easily count
Every single Bilbo man;
That he is such a blithering fool
He tells just where he'll stand.
They say they'll "get the silent vote."
What fools to think that's so,
For many a man that's silent now
Will vote for The-o-do'.

You sure each one of the Big Four
Says he will Governor be;
That now the others have a chance;
Gosh—how crooked they can see.
But sure the Antis see quite well;
It's the voters they wish to blind,
And make them think they're far ahead,
With the others way behind.

They say that "Bilbo's losing ground."
Well, let them have their say,
If happiness to them it brings,
'Twill be for just a day.
In this delusion let them dwell,
If they can happy be;
For when the little ballots fall
Their happiness will flee.

Now, Bilbo men, be on your guard;
Just stand you firm and true,
And listen not unto their chant
They're trying to fool you.
For you see I know I know I know
And you'll see that I'm not wrong—
Bilbo will be elected
With eighty thousand strong.
